Financial Planning

“People don’t plan to fail – they just fail to plan”

We all have dreams and aspirations:-

- to pay off a mortgage as soon as possible,
- fund for children’s or grandchildren’s higher education costs,
- retire early,
- achieve a better work-home balance,
- ensure financial security and independence in retirement.

With some careful financial planning, these aims can be placed within reach.

Warwick Butchart’s expertise, experience and investment in leading-edge technology means we are well-placed to assist clients in achieving their ambitions and financial aims.

The first step to financial planning is a requirement to get organised. This is often best achieved through engaging and developing a continuing partnership with your personal independent financial planner. Warwick Butchart Associates will assist by obtaining detailed financial and personal information as well as discussing with clients their objectives, ambitions and attitude to risk. Collating such information can take time but may be the most valuable investment in yourself that you ever make.

Our review of your current and future financial position and objectives will include an analysis of your existing financial arrangements. It will entail research on your existing policies, plans and investments, pointing out benefits and weaknesses of which you may be unaware. We don’t just review your current financial position though, we then use both our own resources and expertise, as well as that of external experts where appropriate, to compile a financial plan to assist you to meet your objectives.

With a reputation as leading retirement planning, investment and protection advisers obtained since our formation in 1981 we believe we are well-placed to assist you to define, implement and achieve your financial plan.
